It was another fine lot of young men that left Grayling Thursday night of are'spared her torture. last week to enter the Michigan-Wisconsin_training_quarters_at_Camp Custer, for the new National army. And it was an inspiring audience of that was there to bid them farewell Hanson and cheer-them-on

The men were escorted to the school house by the Grayling band, and acbeard and others. When they reached the school house they found the audi torium packed with people.

Mayor T. Hanson acted as of the evening. Several selections of and that we must dig down into music were furnished by the band before beginning the program. Among the speakers there were James A. Kalahar of Frederic, county school commissioner; Otto Heber, superintendent of the Frederic schools, and Dr. C. C.

Curnalia of Roscommon Interspersed in the program were two-choruses-sung-by-children of the Junior high school, which were greatly enjoyed by all.

The first speaker introduced was Mr. Ka ahar, who spoke in a spirit of optimism and wished to congratulate the young men who had been fortunate in being chosen to help to fight the battles for his country in the interest of humanity and justice.

Prof. Heber gave a very cheerfu talk, such as he believed the depart ing young men would want to hear. He told some very interesting things and among them some of his personal experiences on a visit to Germany.

Interesting Letter From Lieut. H. C. Sweenev. Camp Pike, Arkansa

Nov. 19, 1917.

Mr. Schumann:

I have been reading all the letters of the boys that are doing their bit in National army camps and in the Michigan National guard, so thought a let-

We had been expecting orders for several weeks at Fort Douglas, Utah, and everybody expected it would be nothing short of a sea trip. It was the nost woe-be-gone crowd of officers and men I have ever seen when orders came to move to Camp Pike. It meant guard duty and all the dull routine of depot troops and left everybody dis-

The trip across the mountains was uneventful, with the exception of one or two small events, such as men getting left at stations, etc. One of the men in my company decided he would rather nick cotton than be a soldier. so without leave he left the train at a town in Oklahoma. Later when I had the sheriff call on him, he decided that being a soldier was not so bad after

I missed seeing Leo Jorgenson by ten hours. The troop train I was with reached Little Rock at eight o'clock Friday evening. His train went thru Saturday morning at six. We arrived in Camp Pike about 9:30. There were none to meet us and the place strange one. Finally I found a second lieutenant of the Q. M. C. who was in charge of troops arriving, and he directed us to quarters for the men. After getting the men comfortably housed, I started out to see if I could find any quarters. After a long search I found an old spring cot, which immediately set in the same quarters occupied by my company. I had previously learned it would be almos impossible to get our bedding rolls, due to the fact that wagons or trucks were not obtainable. So using some Saturday Evening Posts as a mattress to keep from sleeping on the bare springs, and with my sheep skin for a pillow I turned in. About 12:30 I was awakened and told if I went to head It seems somebody had found a stray ruck driver and by breaking open the freight cars had finally obtained the been more fortunate in that they carry their rolls with them, so they can be

An actual famine in handkerchiefs threatens America. Importations have already practically ceased. In the face of such a situation we are glad to announce we are able to supply our patrons with every variety of linen kerchief desired at a reasonable price. We protected our customers and ourselves by buying months ago. Therefore we can offer for the holidays the best qualities at moderate prices based on old costs. Need we insist further upon the wisdom of laying in a complete stock for yourself and for gifts.

SWEDEN.

The new cabinet of Sweden, formed in October by the premier, Nils Eden, liberal, represents the opinion of the Swedish people as closely as possible under prevailing circumstances. None of the political parties in the second chamber of the riksdag has a majority so as to be able to dictate the decisions of the chamber. Each party is dependent on one of the others. On account of the result of the new elections, King Gustaf desired a conlition cabinet, including representatives of all the political parties, con servatives, liberals, socialists, leaders of the liberals and socialist parties, however, refused to join a enbluet with conservative members and the conservative party, being the minority party of the second chamber after the recent elections, had to withdraw its claims for representation. Instead, the liberal representation in the cubinet has been increased. It is in the conservative party only that the political sympathy with Germany has been strong. The new cubinet includes six liberals, Nils Eden, premier; Eliel Lofgren, minister of justice; Axel Schotte, minister of the interior; E. A. Nilsson, minister agriculture; B. A. Petren, minister without portfolio; one nonpartisan, J. Heliner, minister of foreign affairs and four socialists, Hjalmer Branting. minister of finance; Erik Talmstjerna, minister of marine; Verner minister of education, and B. O. Un-den, minister without portfolio. This is the first time in Swedish history thate representatives of the socialis party have become members of the cabinet, and consequently have had opportunity to tag the into directly in the government. It is not unusual that a nonpartisan, former Lord Justice Johan Helfner, has been given the portfolio of foreign affairs. It indientes the prevalling opinion that the foreign politics of Sweden in the present crisis ought not to be a matter of party politics, Nils Eden, the new premier, was born in 4871. He got his education at the University of Upsula and devoted his study ticularly to political history. He has published many important historical writings and was appointed professor of political history at the university in 1908. The crisis between Norway and Sweden in 1905, when the union was broken, became in a way decis ive us to his career. Eden nublished a pamphlet on "The Swedish Program in the Union Crisis" translated into English, French and German. He joined the liberal party and became an ardent advocate of political franchise on a wide basis and of a broadler parliamentary government. principles he has been fighting for ever He was elected member of the second chamber of the riksdag in 1908 and when Karl Staaff became premier in 1911, Eden succeeded him as the second chamber. General Byng. who devised the plan and whose army carried it out, first sent out a great number of tanks, and as these cleared away the barbed-wire entanglements and broke through two of the strong est lines in the German defense system in the west, the infantry and cav-airy followed with a rush that carried all before it. The Germans were demoralized, and for many hours offered little resistance, surrendering by the thousand, and the British moved rapidly forward, taking village after village, and quickly consolidating the enemy positions, which had not been badly-demolished by-shell-fire. Almost to Cambrai. On Wednesday the resistance of the enemy stiffened considerably, but to no avail, for the British pushed on until they had put behind them the towns Mosnieres, Marcoing, Ribecourt, Havrincourt, Graincourt and Flesquieres. The tanks still were leading the way, and co-operating with them had so little opportunity for real action. By Thursday noon Byng's troops were but little more than two miles from Cambral, and his big guns had begun to shell that most important German base and railway center. The British swiftly built roads and light railways across the captured section up to their new lines and also beof the Stockholm newspapers say the gan to widen out their salient, which at first was dangerously sharp. British salient, dominating the immediate region. He also pushed the ad vance nosts of the British out of Fontaine Notre Dame, but they held and consolidated all the rest of the territory they had gained.

The secrecy which enveloped the preparations for this great movement was astonniling and speaks volumes for the skill of the British command-ers and the extency of the aviation which prevented the enemy air scouts from discovering the massing of troops and tanks. The Cambra sector had been quiet for a long time and the Germans considered that part of their defense lines impregnable They also thought an attack in force on such defenses could not be made successfully without artillery preparation. "WE WON'T WIN IF WE WASTE" Tested Wartime Recipes

FOR USE IN MICHIGAN >>

To the Housewives of Michigan: The following recipes have been pro-pared and tested at the Michigan Agri-cultural College under the supervision of Dean Goorgia L. White, member of the executive committee of the Michigan food canservation service. They are practical, economical, and of first class dietary value.

They have been prepared with especial view to Michigan conditions—native products being utilized so far as possible, and market prices in this section of the country being taken into special account. They lay down a practical method by which Michigan cooks may assist in the great movement to SAVE FOODSTUFFS. Use them. Help the cause. Help win the war.

Examinations for postmaster of Grayling brot out a number of aspirants. The examinations were held in Detroit, Cadillac and Boyne City, Wednesday Nov. 28. Among those who attended are Melvin A. Bates, Mr. and Mrs. Will Havens, Charles O. McCullough, A. L. Foster, Allen B. Failing and Holger Peterson. There vere several others whose names we have not learned. It is understood that the applicant passing the highest examination will receive the appointment. Recently a petition containing the names of nearly every business man and scores of other citizens of rayling was sert the postonice de partment asking that Melvin A. Bates be appointed to that position. This matter was done without the knowledge of Mr. Bates and is a fine compliment to him. He certainly filled the office of postmaster of Grayling in a high class manner, and whoever gets the appointment will have to "go some" to equal his record of efficiency.

Puzzling Question to Gray Heads in Calf Business - Much Depends on Ration Furnished

How fast should my calves grow? is a puzzling question even to gray bearly in the culf-raising business. This will depend to a large extent on the kind of ration fed, but in order for any ration to be considered a definite success the calves should show a gain of it least a pound a day each day for the first six months. Many ordinary dairymen are getting a pound and a half gain daily.

In height these same calves should increase from one and one half to two inches per month for the first half year. The height and weight have a definit relation for average sized calves during this first period. After six months this relation gradually changes and the weight outstrips the height. At one month of age a normal calf of any breed weighs, approximately three pounds for each inch in height, but at he end of the six m weight has increased to six and onehalf pounds for each inch in height. From that time on there is a continued Widening in the relation of weight to height until maturity.

zens The American Defense society has been waging a successful campaign against various forms of pro-German activities throughout the entire country and in its appeal for, the support of congress, is doing a worthy work to help stamp out those influences that clog the wheels of a successful. prosecution of this war, which is the nation's cheif business.

The use of the printed petition, plus the personal efforts of all patriots will aid in making a success the presentation of this most serious question for national recognition. The might of incensed public opinion has proved a most influential factor in the shaping of administration policies. There is no question of the success of any work when properly directed through the right channels, having as its main object the attaining of a conclusive victory against Prussianism. This line of activity comes under the socicty's motto of "Serve at the Frontor-Serve at Home." Each and every man can do their bit in this com-which it is believed the public could dispense with, but not without inconvenience. It is for the priority director and the fuel administrator to determine how many of these commodities shall be denied transportation. We have no doubt that if non-essential commodities are eliminated, the railways can transport all commodities re-quired by the government in carrying on the war and by the people for their ubsistence and comfort.

Great, however, as are the difficulties which the railways are encountering in their efforts to render adequate service, we beleive that if the government and the public will be patient and will continue to give the managements of the railways their ccoperation, most of these difficulties will be overcome.

Shoe and Rubber Talks by Frank

Well, you haven't heard any more talk on higher prices on shoes of late, have you? Now listen, the highest I have quoted Florsheim shoes at any time was $5.50 and $6.00, while others quoted them at $7.00, $8.00 and $9.00. Why? It is a little foresight and preparedness. Did I get excited? Not that I know of. I have a complete line of ladies' and men's shoes—such as are carried in large cities. Come and see the men's dark brown English shoes, also black ones, at $4.50 to $6.00. Good work shoes $3.25 to $4.50.

Ladies' Shoes

Ladies come and see the beautiful line of shoes in black, Havanna brown and gray. Don't forget to ask to see the new Khaki Trench boots. I am selling some odd sizes worth $4.00 at $2.48, and my $3.95 special is a $5.00 shoe-button only.

Dancing Pumps

Ladies dancing pumps in different kinds and the low prices will astonish you. Lasts are B, C and D. What does that mean? You pick the color and I will do the rest-fit you and suit you.

Men's Rubbers

I got them in all kinds and sizes. Get my prices before buying.

Tennis Shoes and Rubbers

Mothers send your children to this store for tennis shoes and rubbers. I can fit them. No trouble to show them, and prices that will make you glad these times.

It's pretty hard to get just what you want in rubbers in different styles. I have them.
